THE ELECTIONS IN THE NEW STATES.

Whatever may be the result in Montana, the republicans have won a great victory. The republican majorities in the Dakotas are quite large, with probably prohibition carried in both states. The most cheering news comes from Washington territory. While the democrats conceded that the republicans would probably carry North and South Dakota, they claimed Washington and Montana for themselves. As to Washington, the following from Milwaukee will show the disappointment to the democrats: "Henry C. Payne received a dispatch last night from Olympia, Washington, saying the republican majority would reach 9,000 and that the county returns showed that the democrats would hardly be able to muster enough members of the legislature to hold a caucus."

Should the democrats finally carry Montana, their victory will be partial only. The republican member of congress is elected, and as the governor and legislature, there is still some doubt. The democrats thought there was no fear of defeat in that state, and with Washington for them, they figured that honors were even between the republicans and democrats. There is one feature of the campaign in the new states worth noting. The New York Times took special interest in the elections in these states. It sent "reliable" correspondents to make surveys of the contest there going on, and all of the reports sent to the Times showed that the democrats were not only going to carry Montana and Washington, but would likely win in one or both of the Dakotas. The Times' prediction was based on the fact that the republican managers had made the tariff question an issue in all the four states. Documents by the tens of thousands were sent from the city of Washington to the people in the new states, and it is true that home protection was made an issue. The Times saw in all this a victory for the democratic party, and staked its reputation as a political prophet on the statement the tariff issue would make a majority of the new states democratic. The result may daze the New York Times, but it is quite in keeping with republican estimates and hopes.

In addition to this it is well to give the readers of the Gazette another point or two in regard to the management of the elections in the new states. The paragraph is included in a dispatch from Washington city to the Milwaukee Sentinel: "Politicians here are rejoicing over the victory in the territories, and are disposed to give the national republican committee considerable credit for the good work it did, and for the great interest the members manifested in the election in the new states. It is a well known fact that ever since the meeting of the members of the national committee here last summer when it was decided to send Henry C. Payne into the territories to examine the field, the committee has, with very scant assistance from the administration, put in most telling work in the territories, contributing liberally of their own money and sending a million pieces of campaign literature into the new states. Quay and Payne are given special credit here, and Clarkson also comes in for a good share."

THE FUTURE OF LABOR UNIONS.

It would be well if all intelligent workmen could read Mr. Austin Corbin's article in the October North American Review on the future of labor unionism. There are several very important truths stated by Mr. Corbin, and the Gazette improves the opportunity of reproducing a few of them: "I do not believe that the time will ever come when labor-unionism will permanently control the great body of American workmen. If it does, it will produce a state of society wherein the workmen will have neither the opportunity nor the opportunity to improve his condition or ever to become himself an employer, and where the great mass of bread-winners will be reduced to a state of slavery to the employer, worse, in every respect, than that in which the colored race were formerly held in the southern states. White men, at least, revolt at the idea. They do not submit to such conditions. Surely there can be no form of slavery more abhorrent to our American people than that in which the head of some labor union is enabled to dictate when a man may, or must not, work for his daily bread; unless it be that more shameful and cowardly slavery of the employer of labor, who, in fear that he may lose something of what he has gained, or that he may fail to add to his gains, will permit a walking delegate, generally an utter stranger to himself and his business, to swagger about his premises, and dictate the terms upon which he may be permitted to continue his business. The workmen of this country should never lose sight of the fact that every labor agitation, even if it only produces a temporary, tends to destroy the smaller industries of the country which are scattered all over the land, where by employment for all kinds of workers, skilled and unskilled, is found throughout nearly the whole of our diversified territory, and to concentrate all productive industries in the large centres of population, where labor is abundant and cheap, where rents and the means of subsistence are comparatively dear, where equal and well-earned wages prevail, and where filth and disease most abound." The history of labor agitation and strikes in this country substantiate the statements made by Mr. Corbin. What have knights of labor gained by their agitation and strikes during the past seven or eight years? Have they imposed any great principle among them which will endure? Have they made the order stronger by their agitation and strikes? Have they improved their condition or the condition of the workingmen? The organization is growing weaker, discontent is being bred among them, and in no case have they made a contribution to the permanent welfare of the order. The story is an old one—with labor agitation and with strikes, have come disastrous results of labor.

In the campaign in Ohio there seems to be an element of discord between Mr. Murel Halstead, the reckless and belligerent editor of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, and Mr. James E. Campbell, ex-republican, and now the democratic candidate for governor of Ohio. Mr. Halstead writes Mr. Campbell an open letter in answer to some charges the latter had made against the former, and then he concludes: "You neglect to say anything about the ballot box bill which you introduced in the house of representatives and that was accompanied by a contract, No. 1,000, printed in the Commercial Gazette yesterday. It may interest you to know that I have proof that you had secured a money interest in that ballot-box contract before you introduced the bill, namely, that you 'subscribed' to secure an interest July 3, 1888."

Mr. Campbell does not seem to endorse these statements of Halstead's, and when a newspaper reporter went to see him and feel his pulse, the democratic candidate became excited and said: "Halstead is a liar and a double liar. There is not a word of truth in it."

"Then there was no contract of the kind as published?" "If there was I did not see it. If he can prove that I had anything to do with such a contract I will withdraw from the race. That will demonstrate whether he is liar or not."

This opens the way for Mr. Halstead to make a sensation in Ohio by driving Mr. Campbell from the gubernatorial race; now let us see if he shall be equal to the occasion. If Halstead can prove his charges, then the democrats will have to search for another candidate for governor, and if he does not, the charge of Campbell will be sustained, and the democrats of Ohio will gain an important point. No one will have any sympathy for Halstead on account of the attacks Mr. Campbell has made on him. He is simply doing for Mr. Halstead what Mr. Halstead did for General Logan, Senator Sawyer, and many other senators whose integrity is above suspicion. Let us see how he likes to take his own medicine.

AN APPALLING ACCIDENT ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

The Steamer Corona's Boilers Explode and Nearly Forty Lives are Lost—Various Other Disasters.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 4.—The steamer Corona of the Ouachita Consolidated line which left here at 7:30 Wednesday evening for the Ouachita river with a full cargo of freight and a good list of passengers, exploded her boilers at False River, nearly opposite Port Hudson, at 11:45 o'clock Thursday morning, causing the loss of the steamer and about forty lives. The anchor line steamer City of St. Louis, Capt. James O'Neil, was near, and with his crew and boats saved many lives. The surviving passengers and crew were taken on board by Capt. O'Neil and very kindly cared for by his crew. The following is the list of the lost so far as known:
Dr. ATWELL, a "corn doctor," and four negro musicians.
Mr. SCOTT of Smithland, La.
Mr. DAVIS, a stockman, of Texas.
Mr. KOENIG.
Mrs. HOFFMAN.
J. W. BLANKS, the captain.
J. V. JORDAN, first clerk.
E. H. ELS, second clerk.
SWIMP HANNA, third clerk.
FRED DINKLE, a barber.
FRED VERMAN, a barber.
PAT RYAN, a steward.
DICK CURTIS, a fireman.
TOM SHOOK, the engineer.
HENRY DOYLE, a porter.
JAMES SWIFE, a porter.
Mr. TATE, a barber.
HENRY DAVIS, a deck hand.
TOM COOK, a sailor.
BILLY YOUNG, second mate.
SAM STEEL, a boy.
Mrs. TOM HUGH of Opelousas, sister of Capt. Blank.
Mr. WILSON of Red River plantation.
The following were wounded, but none fatal, it is thought:
Capt. B. G. COOK, slightly hurt.
BAUGHMAN, residing on Black river, hurt internally.
CHARLES A. FRASER of New Orleans, scalded.
Pilot ROLINS, badly scalded on the hands.
Capt. T. S. SWEENEY, slightly hurt by flying timbers.
Mrs. E. W. ROBERTSON, slightly hurt.
Both captains of the deck watch, fifteen roustabouts, and a nurse of Mrs. Kaufman were also lost.

Mrs. Robertson says when the Corona arrived opposite False River landing, about sixteen miles below Bayou Sara, one of her boilers exploded, tearing the boat to pieces. She sank in deep water in a few seconds. Mrs. Robertson was at first lodged in the ladies' cabin by some of the debris lying across her legs, but was suddenly released and found herself floating in the river. She sank twice, but was picked up and escaped with only a few painful bruises on her limbs.
Mr. L. C. Rollins, pilot of the Corona, was asleep in the Texas at the time of the explosion. He does not know how the explosion occurred. He was awakened by the noise made; he was painfully burned on both hands.
The Hon. L. F. Mason, secretary of State, who was a passenger on the Corona, says that he was in the cabin talking to Mrs. Robertson when the explosion occurred. He escaped with life preservers and assisted in saving Mrs. Robertson and another woman. There was very little time for preparation for escape, as the boat went down like lead a few seconds after the explosion.

No one seems to be able to give any explanation as to the cause of the sudden disaster. Capt. T. C. Sweeney, one of the owners of the line, who assumed command on the death of Capt. Blank, says the explosion was not due to a too high pressure of steam. He had just had occasion to examine the gauge and is positive there was not a pressure of more than 135 pounds. "The boat had a moderate cargo. She was in midstream just below the landing at Arbroth, and had just whistled to pass the City of St. Louis, fortunately coming down at the time. The explosion had a downward tendency and blew out the bottom of the boat, causing her to sink immediately. The cabin was torn in two, the rear portion floating down stream and the engine was forced to the surface. Sweeney happened to be forward, and started at once to put out the flames, which began to burn at several places. He says the boat would undoubtedly have burned had she not gone down. None of the books, papers, or other valuables were saved.

AN EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE.

Attempt to Wreck the Slaughter House New York Firm.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A dastardly attempt was made this morning to destroy the slaughter house of J. & C. Scanlan on West 140th street. A dynamite bomb was thrown through an open window, causing about $200 damage to the property, but injuring no one. The deed is supposed to have been committed by a discharged employee. There had been a strike in the place last February. The Scanlans are sheep-butchers and wool-pullers, and have had considerable trouble with members of the Sheep Butchers' Provident association and the Edison Association of Wool-pullers. The firm discharged its union hands and employed men brought from Chicago and Boston, and since then there has been a constant warfare between the new and the old men. Circulars have been sent out, and the non-union men have been induced to desert the shop. The office safe is full of boycotting circulars, and the Scanlans believe that the intention was to destroy it. Michael Mahoney, the fireman, was compelled some time ago to ask for a permit to carry a pistol. He professed that old employees had entered his house at night, and that his life was in danger.

Two Milwaukee Millionaires Hurt.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 4.—A runaway horse early last evening tumbled into John W. Cary and Frederick Layton, both prominent citizens of the city. Both gentlemen were hurled into a pile of gravel, which was all that saved their lives. The accident happened on Wisconsin street close to the Milwaukee club house, and the injured millionaires were carried in there and aid summoned. Both are seriously crippled and had a narrow escape from death.

Four Killed by Trains.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—George Conaghan, a Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific switchman, was run over yesterday and died at St. Luke's hospital.
John Maher was run over and killed by a Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific train at Thirty-second street.
Walker, a horse, who was struck by a Pan Handle locomotive, died this morning at the county hospital.
August Finger was killed on the Pan Handle at Brighton Park.

Fifty Lost at Sea.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A cablegram via Key West, from Nassau, says that the British ship, the Edmund, was wrecked on a Bahama reef, and that 50 of her crew were lost. The ship was bound for New York and was carrying a cargo of sugar.

THE CRIMINAL RECORD.

GEN. FAULKNER GETS SEVEN YEARS.

Groom, Bride, and Pastor Slain—Crime of a Drunken Wisconsin Man—Other Criminal Matters.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Gen. Lester B. Faulkner, of Danville, charged with robbing the First National bank of that village in 1887, was found guilty by a jury in the United States District court here today.

The trial, which was the second which Faulkner has stood for his crime, was begun Sept. 19. The people were represented by District Attorneys Lockwood and Hoyt. The formal charges against Faulkner, read by the minister, were false reports to the controller of the currency.

Faulkner was president of the First National bank of Danville, and in his last report to the controller of the currency stated the bank was only $10,000 short. Yet within thirty days the bank failed, with $300,000 liabilities and only $100 in the safe.

Faulkner's plan was to loan the money of depositors on notes, which he would re-hypothecate with other banks.

Gen. Faulkner was sentenced to seven years in confinement. An application will be made for a writ of error in the case.

GROOM, BRIDE AND PASTOR SLAIN.

Another Terrible Tragedy Resulting From the Bloody Hatfield-McCoy Feud.

JANESVILLE, Pike County, Ky., Oct. 4.—The old Hatfield-McCoy feud has broken out again, and at least three more lives have been sacrificed in the bloody vendetta which, in now last, has over seven years.

The shooting occurred at a marriage on the farm house of Peter McCoy. His daughter was to become the wife of John Hand, a relative of the Hatfield gang, and members of both factions had sworn to prevent the union.

They were unable to stop the preparations for the wedding, however, as neither Peter McCoy nor Hand had ever been connected with the disputes of the feud, and refused to recognize the leaders.

Tuesday night the bridal party assembled in McCoy's house, and just as young Hand was about to be married, a volley was poured through the window, which killed both of them and fatally wounded the clergyman. Reports say that the farmers and mountaineers of the local country are now on edge, but up to this morning no trace of them has been found.

CRIME OF A DRUNKEN MAN.

Edward Flynn Attempts to Kill His Wife and Commit Suicide at La Crosse.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Oct. 4.—Edward Flynn, a saw-filer, made an attempt to murder his wife and commit suicide Thursday afternoon. Flynn, who is well to do, had been drinking heavily and entered the house, where his wife was making pie, drew a revolver from his pocket and fired at his wife's head. The ball struck the woman in the nose, perforating that organ, and Mrs. Flynn rushed screaming from the house. Flynn then held the pistol to his own forehead, and, firing, fell to the floor. The neighbors found him lying in a pool of blood apparently dead. A priest was summoned and proceeded to administer the last rites of the church, but when the physician arrived it was found that he was not badly hurt. The shot had merely cut a furrow in the length of his head without causing more than a scalp wound. In a few minutes he had recovered sufficiently to sit up, and later was lodged in jail charged with attempting to murder his wife. The woman's face will be badly disfigured.

Sensational Suicide at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Kate M. Nye committed suicide last evening by jumping from the third-story window of the house 717 West Jefferson street, where she and her husband were residing. They had been waiting for supper and he stepped out to take a short walk. A child came in with some towels and Mrs. Nye asked him if he would like to see her jump out of the window. He answered that he would. She replied, "All right; I will do it, but you must kiss me good-bye." He did so and she deliberately sprang out of the window. She was instantly killed. Marital unhappiness was the cause.

BRIEFLETS.

"Ole Oleson" is the next attraction at Lappin's opera house.

The N. O. W. Club open their series of parties next Tuesday evening, with a grand ball at the armory.

The Labadie-Rowell Comedy Company failed to draw a house barely sufficient to pay expenses both nights.

Rook-River Knickerbocker No. 3, I. O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows hall this evening—regular semi-monthly meeting.

The drinking fountain at the head of East Milwaukee street has been running over for several days, making a fine little brook down the street car track.

People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

A number of Janesville hunters and sporting men are making arrangements for a visit to Lake Koshkonong, intending to go into camp, and await the coming of game.

Lieutenant Johnston, of the Salvation Army, will relate his circus experience to-night. Everyone come and bid him farewell, as this is his last meeting in Janesville.

Con. Murphy, driver of the eastside horse carriage, wears a very, very bland smile to-day, all on account of the bright-eyed girl baby his wife presented to him last evening.

The large barn of the Colman lumber mills at La Crosse, was destroyed by fire last night. Fifty horses belonging to Colman perished in the burning barn. Loss estimated at $15,000.

Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, Ancient Order of United Workmen, assemble in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Smith block, East Milwaukee street.

Messrs. Ford & Crosssett, of the City Mills, have received an order for twenty carloads of their famous Simon pure brand of buckwheat flour. There is no better flour in the market than this brand.

Dan O'Leary, advance agent, representing the Mrs. George Knight Company, was in the city last evening and a part of to-day, completing arrangements for the appearance of his company at Lappin's opera house on Wednesday evening of next week.

James S. Field has purchased the former residence of Hon. John Winans, Washington street, first ward, the consideration being thirty-one hundred fifty dollars. The sale was made by the real estate hustlers of Wheeler & Stevens.

The Light Infantry boys are going to give a grand military ball on Friday evening, November 15th. Companies of the first regiment will be invited, all of whom will appear in full dress uniform. This will be the grandest ball the Light Infantry company ever gave.

The Beloit Free Press: The news comes from Madison that State Dairy and Food Commissioner Thos. finds great difficulty in securing the services of a strictly temperate and competent man to test the drinkables on tap and for sale at Janesville. Only for our profound respect for the relative, we would suggest the name of the Cardiff Giant as perhaps the best man qualified for the hazardous position.

E. O. Hills, of Chillicothe, Missouri, and formerly a resident of this city, was killed while coupling cars in the switch yards of the St. Paul company at Ottumwa, Iowa, September 18, and his remains were taken to his home in Chillicothe on the following Friday. Deceased leaves a wife and four children. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Brakemen, and had an insurance of one thousand dollars.

John Knight, Jr., general agent for D. S. Morgan & Co., manufacturers of agricultural implements at Brookport, N. Y., has entered a complaint in the name of the state of Wisconsin, and arrested Mr. A. B. Cowen, of Milton Junction, for embezzlement. Mr. Cowen was before the municipal court this morning. The case was adjourned for a few days, Mr. Cowen giving bail to the amount of $500.

The Local Temperance Legion will meet Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock in the Good Templars hall, in Court street block. Miss Gordon, private secretary of Frances E. Willard, has presented this Legion with twenty-five copies of her "Mourning Songs." All members of the Infantry and platoons are urged to be present to learn these songs. Any boy or girl in the city can become a member by signing the "Rules of Enrollment."

The American Museum now open at No. 62 East Milwaukee street is very interesting and instructive. The models and manikins are very perfect and life like, representing the anatomy of the human frame, so as to combine art and science in a very pleasing manner. Many of the representations are so real and striking as to cause one to wonder at the handiwork of man. Open here for only a few days and should be visited by all.

The old American house barn, recently purchased by Mr. W. B. Conrad, is being razed to make room for five new one story office buildings, similar in appearance to those belonging to Conrad Brothers next east of this property. The tearing down of the old barn removes one of the oldest landmarks in the city, and the new buildings will add much to the appearance of that part of Court street, which has been greatly improved during recent years. The offices will be completed this fall.

The members of the Fortnightly club will hold their regular meeting, at Mr. W. C. Holmes, No. 307 South Main street. Rev. O. F. Elliott, pastor of All Souls church, is their president, with Miss Mae Henderson secretary. The committee on have prepared a programme for six evenings, upon the subject of "Capital and Labor," and they will take up Edward Bellamy's work, "Looking Backward," from which to work.

This book is divided, with reference to six subjects, as follows: 1st, Competition and cooperation; 2nd, Capital and Labor; 3rd, Supply and Distribution; 4th, Education; 5th, Social Order; 6th, Review. The programme for this evening is: Roll call and response from Edward Bellamy's "Looking Backward"; Sketch of Edward Bellamy; review of "Looking Backward"; Miss Charlotte Prichard.

Boys' and children's suit in great variety at the Milwaukee Clothing Co's.

Competition, T. S. Nolan; Cooperation, E. R. Inman.

The initial meeting of the St. Cecilia Society for this season, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles B. Conrad, Park Place, a goodly number of the members being present, and the entertainment was a very profitable one. The members of the society are divided into two sections, one section giving the entertainment at one meeting and the other section the next. This society is composed of a class of ladies who stand high in musical circles. The benefits arising from such an organization are many. It is a good thing for the ladies who are interested in music. The society has now a large membership, and a great amount of pleasure as well as profit is derived from the fortnightly meetings. The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Nash, corner of Madison and West Bluff streets, first ward, two weeks from yesterday, October 16th.

The Racine Journal: Jumping the rope is a very dangerous practice when it is indulged in to excess, and many girls in this city are guilty of such foolishness. On Monday of this week Carrie Jensen and a companion engaged in a rope jumping contest. The companion jumped 200 times and stopped thoroughly exhausted. Little Carrie then took her turn and jumped 304 times and was still going when she dropped to the walk apparently dead. Six or eight companions present became wild with excitement and attracted the attention of people passing. They carried the girl to her home on St. Patrick street. In a short time she revived. A physician was summoned and stated that the continual jar of jumping up and down had affected the heart. Although the little girl will recover, she has not yet been able to leave her bed. Several doctors were questioned as to the result of jumping rope and said that it was very dangerous and that a girl who jumped too steadily was liable to drop dead in her tracks. This should be a warning to girls not to overexert themselves.

EXPOSITION UNIVERSELLE. PARIS, Oct. 4.—(Special).—The highest possible premium and the only grand prize for sewing machines was awarded the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company.

PERSONAL MENTIONS.

THE COMING AND GOING OF PEOPLE WE KNOW.

Mr. Paul Iversen is confined to his home by illness, 216 South Academy street.

Benjamin Winston and wife, of Evansville, were in the city to-day on business.

Mr. J. G. Bond, of Milton, is the guest of County Treasurer A. D. Burdick.

The Rev. Dr. R. W. Bosworth, presiding elder of the Janesville district, went to Milwaukee this morning.

Mrs. O. P. Brunson returned last evening from Sycamore, Ill., where she was called by the sickness of Mrs. H. P. Lawrence, sister of Mr. Brunson.

Mrs. F. S. Rose, of Urbana, Ohio, and Miss Anna Ayers, of Dixon, Illinois, are the guests of Miss May Patterson. Mrs. Rose and Miss Ayers were school mates of Miss Patterson.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Trever went to Fond du Lac this afternoon, in which city they will make their home. Mr. Trever being assigned as pastor of the Division street M. E. church of that city.

Professor George H. Shrieve, of Boston, Mass., professor of anatomy and embalming, has been the guest of Kimball & Hall, for the past two days. Prof. Shrieve is recognized all over the land as the leader in this business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Linn, of King, Ill., and their daughter, Mrs. Frances Cogswell, of Davis Junction, Ill., are visiting their cousin, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Brunson, of this city. Mr. Linn is one of Ole country's wealthiest farmers.

Beloit Free Press: Mr. and Mrs. M. Malone most pleasantly entertained the "Coffee Club" last evening. "Familiar Quotation" was the agreeable feature of the evening. Among the guests present were Messrs. Pierce and Wheeler and Mrs. Pierce and Miss Jackson, of our ambitious suburb, Janesville.

R. P. Young was called to McGregor, Iowa, this afternoon, receiving a telegram that his brother, Truman Young was very sick at that place and not expected to survive. Mr. Truman Young was a soldier in the Florida Indian war, also in the Black Hawk war, and was at Fort Crawford when General Taylor was in command, and Jeff. Davis a lieutenant in one of the companies at that post.

Stop that coughing, if you do not, it may kill you. A bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup only costs you 25 cents and it will surely save your life.

I had always been much annoyed by neuralgia and headache. At length I determined to try Salvation Oil. I am glad to recommend it, as made a perfect cure in my case.

A TUBULE FIRE.

CAUSES CONSIDERABLE EXCITEMENT AND LOSS IN TORTURE.

Yesterday afternoon a tubule fire occurred on the farm of Benben Kemmer, in the town of Turtle, the fire taking from a steam engine used for propelling a clover huller. A very high wind was prevailing at the time, and the fire spread rapidly, everything being as dry as tinder. Riders were sent out to alarm the neighborhood, and soon an army of farmers congregated and commenced plowing up furrows ahead and on the sides of the fire, and thus headed it off, but not until a strip of ground two miles long and half a mile wide had been burned over. Fences were destroyed in the path of the fire, and Mr. Merritt Bostwick lost considerable hay and straw in stacks. Fortunately for Mr. Kemmer, a piece of pasture land intervened between the fire and his farm buildings, thus preventing the destruction of his property. It was only by the prompt and energetic work of the farmers with their plows that the fire was got under control and confined to the above limits. Had they not succeeded in this confining it, very serious losses would have resulted.

A LOVE AFFAIR.

IN WHICH THREE YOUNG MEN SETTLE THEIR GRIEVANCES.

For some time a certain carpenter of this city has been enjoying the society of a bright young lady of Janesville, to the exclusion of all other admirers. A young grocery clerk, in an evil hour, beheld the fair dame and himself laid siege to her heart. Thus the carpenter objected to, declaring severe punishment for any intrusion. Things went smoothly for some time, until the carpenter happened to meet the grocery clerk walking with his lady. A fight followed in which a butcher took the part of the grocery clerk, and thereby preventing serious injury to the clerk's anatomy. This led to a challenge from the carpenter to fight the butcher. The challenge was accepted, and the time fixed for last Wednesday evening, but for some reason the parties failed to show up. This morning at day-break they met at Greenland, with seconds, bottle holders and a referee, and settled the question as to who was the best man. The fight was a bloody one, the faces of both principals being badly disfigured. The carpenter forced the fighting at the start, but the butcher held out the longest and completely knocked the carpenter out in the sixteenth round; bare knuckles were used, and the blood flowed freely. The carpenter left the city on the noon train to be gone until his face gets somewhat better; meanwhile it is the intention of the grocery clerk to continue his attention to the lady; rating on the muscle of his friend the butcher to back him.

DEATH OF EDWARD KERWIN.

BELOIT'S CENTENARIAN—AGED ONE HUNDRED AND THREE.

Mr. Edward Kerwin died at half-past three o'clock this morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Moran, and in his death a man with a remarkably long life passed away, for he had lived until the 23d of the coming December he would have reached the very unusual age of one hundred and three years, and was in fair possession of all his senses and his mind was clear to the last moment. He was born in Queen's county, Ireland, and came to Beloit direct from the Emerald Isle twenty-six years ago, some of his children having preceded him. He had eleven children, seven sons and four daughters, and a pleasant and yet remarkable fact in connection with his death is that all of the surviving children were permitted to gather at his bed and receive the blessings of a devout Christian father. The children are:

Rods, of Beloit; James, of Milwaukee; Edward, of Beloit; Mrs. John Moran, of Beloit; and John, of Madison.

Edward was out of the city and did not arrive home until just before the door closed on his father's long and honorable life. The venerable sire seemed to leave out the latch string until the last one was within, and then peacefully closed his eyes to wake no more.

Deceased always enjoyed good health, and up to within the past three or four years would travel unattended between this city and Madison where he had a son residing. He divided the latter years of his life between this place and Madison and was always welcome at the homes of any of his children. He was engaged in farming near Beloit for many years. He was an exemplary man and a pious Catholic, and always loyal to the democratic party, and held the satisfaction of casting his vote last fall for Groves Cleveland, and very likely was the oldest man in the state who voted.

The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from the Catholic church.—Beloit Free Press.

Card of Thanks.

If the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam should publish a card of thanks, containing expressions of gratitude which come to him daily from those who have been cured of every throat and lung trouble by the use of Kemp's Balsam, would it be a fair sized book. How much better to invite all to call on any drug-gist and get a free sample bottle that you may test for yourself its power. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 33 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind.

TODD'S.

"BURTON AND INDIA PALE ALES" are acknowledged by judges to be superior to the Imported English Ales. They have the virtue of being strictly pure—nothing save malt and hops, and of the choicest quality, enters into their composition. Consequently all the nutritive tonic and restorative properties those ingredients are known to possess are found judiciously blended in these brands of ale.—Brewery east end Milwaukee street bridge.

JOHN CONNORS, a young man living a few miles east of Lawler, Iowa, left that town at night for his home in an intoxicated condition. Only a short distance from Lawler he was run over by a west-bound express and so cut up and mangled that his friends could not recognize him except by papers in his pockets.

No use talking—they are a defiled bargain—the black silk-warp Henriettes, that we offer at 75 cents a yard.

THE GOOD TEMPLARS.

THE GRAND LODGE SESSION CONCLUDED AT MADISON.

District Deputy Chief Templar W. G. Palmer, of People's Lodge No. 460, returned home last evening from the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge at Madison. Mr. Palmer brings cheering reports from the grand body, and of the excellent work accomplished during the past year, the order being in a very prosperous condition in all parts of the state. The session of the grand lodge closed last evening. At the morning session the following grand officers of the body were elected:

Grand Chief Templar—E. W. Oshafin of Waukegan.

Grand Counselor—Phil. Allen, Jr., of Mineral Point.

Grand Vice Templar—Ora McAlister of Stevens Point.

Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Temples—Miss Alta Reed, of Milwaukee.

Grand Secretary—B. F. Parker, of Milwaukee.

Grand Treasurer—Mrs. L. W. Parker, of Milwaukee.

The several appointive offices were filled as follows:

Grand chaplain, Rev. J. H. Higby, of Lake Geneva; grand marshal, C. H. Gallagher, Ashland; grand deputy marshal, Miss Fannie Proctor, Darlington; grand guard, David Rice Lake; grand messenger, Harry Clark, Milwaukee; assistant grand secretary, Miletus Knight, Durand.

The report of the secretary of the Good Templars Publishing company, for the past year, shows an encouraging state of affairs, with all bills paid and a much larger subscription list for the Western Good Templars than was the case one year ago. The states of Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois have combined and made the publication their official organ. A subscription list was opened for those who desired to take stock in the company and upward of $1000 was subscribed in a short time. B. F. Parker was chosen managing editor and Miss A. Reed secretary, the headquarters to be in Milwaukee. In the afternoon the lodge revised its by-laws in harmony with the new constitution, and last night the session was concluded with the ceremonies of installing officers.

The annual session of the Good Templars Mutual Benefit association for Wisconsin and the Northwest was held in the afternoon, and about 150 members were present. The secretary's report showed a total of 1,064 members, an increase of upwards of 100 since last year, and enough cash on hand to pay a death loss without making another assessment.

During the past year the association has paid out over $4,000 to the families of deceased members, there being six deaths and five assessments. The following directors were chosen for three years:

O. H. Knight, of Eau Claire; W. G. Palmer, of Janesville; H. Petersen, of St. Paul.

At a meeting of the directors to-night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—H. A. Porter, Ft. Atkinson.

Vice President—J. F. Cleghorn, Clinton.

Secretary—B. F. Parker, Milwaukee.

Treasurer—Ira H. Stewart, Mauston.

A Prize of $100,000.

is a good thing to get, and the man who wins it by superior skill, or by an unexpected turn of fortune, is to be congratulated. But he who escapes from the clutches of that dread monster, Consumption, and wins back health and happiness, is far more fortunate.

The chances of winning $100,000 are small, but every consumptive may be absolute-ly sure of recovery, if he takes Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in time. For all scrofulous diseases (consumption is one of them), it is an unfailing remedy. All druggists.

OLE OLSON.

AT LAPPIN'S OPERA HOUSE MONDAY EVENING.

The new departure in the dialect comedy line played to a fair house, mainly upstairs, last night. The performance was well received and the merriest evoked by Mr. Gus J. Heege's delineation of the honest but uneducated 8 cent drapian was audible several blocks away from the Grand. "Ole" had "bane en dees konyr was yare, feint mout and sex wake," and knew just enough about American institutions, Oklahoma included, to be real funny. His ideas of having "flies" on him and being in the "soup," were excessively comic. Mr. Heege is an excellent Swede comedian and the individuality with which he invests the character, keeps the audience in constant laughing humor. His company is a good one, and the entertainment given affords a very pleasant evening. Mr. Jay Simms in his Irish songs and baro quo, Miss Lois Clark in the scurvy part and George Randolph as "Mrs. Bridget O'Flannigan" were well received and the other members of the cast did creditable work also.

Before the play commenced, containing American, Irish, Swede and English characters.—Hawkeye, Burlington, Ill., Sept. 15.

Vigor and Vitality.

Are quickly given to every part of the body by Dr. Cassen's Sarsaparilla. That tried feeling is entirely restored. The blood is purified, enriched, and vitalized, and carries health instead of disease to every organ. The stomach is toned and strengthened, the appetite restored. The kidney and liver is aroused and invigorated. The brain is refreshed, the mind made clear and ready for work. Try it.

GRATITUDE EXPRESSED.

THE CONGREGATIONAL PEOPLE TO THEIR FRIENDS.

At the regular weekly prayer meeting of the Congregational church, held last evening, the following acknowledgments were unanimously adopted:

We desire to express our sincere gratitude to those households of our congregations who so kindly and generously assisted us in entertaining our guests during the days of the convention.

And we desire further, to return our thanks to the press of this city for the full reports of the proceedings of the convention, published by them.

In the same connection it is proper to mention that the Women's Home Missionary Union at its annual meeting held in this city last week, passed a unanimous vote of thanks for the courtesy shown by the trustees of the Baptist church, in giving them the use of their lecture room for their meetings.

CUPID'S WORK.

THE MARRIAGE OF ALBERT LEE WILCOX AND MISS EDE ECHOLZ.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Buchholz, 108 Prospect avenue, was the scene of a most happy and joyous social event last evening, being the marriage of Mr. Albert Lee Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wilcox, of the fourth ward, and Miss Ede Echolz, daughter of the host and hostess. The residence and grounds were beautifully illuminated with artificial lights, and adorned with flowers and evergreen, while the interior of the residence was made fragrant with the perfume of plants and flowers distributed and festooned in lavish profusion. Guests to the number of nearly one hundred and fifty were late in congratulating, and the ceremony did not take place until nearly ten o'clock. It was a most pleasant social gathering of friends of the popular young couple, both of whom were born and grew to man and womanhood in this city, and both being held in the highest esteem by a very large circle of intimate friends.

At twenty minutes to ten o'clock, just after the last carriage had arrived with the last of the guests, Smith & Andersen's orchestra, which had been veiled from the guests by a bank of evergreens and flowers, commenced playing the wedding march, and the bridal party entered the parlors, preceded by Miss Amelia Smiley and Mr. Will J. Skelly, who acted as bride's maid and groomsmen. The bride and groom followed, taking their place in the large bay-window, which had been trimmed especially for the occasion with floral designs. Above their heads was suspended cupid's bow and arrow—a beautiful floral piece. The Rev. W. F. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated, using the ring service, and in beautiful form pronounced the loving couple husband and wife.

Congratulations of the heartiest cheer followed, and the scene was one of the merriest, surrounded with that pleasant solemnity always present on such occasions. A rich wedding supper was then served, the tables being supplied with the richest delicacies of the season, and ornamented with choice floral emblems appropriate to the occasion.

The bride was the recipient of many rich and useful presents, one an elegant piano—from the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, like sensible people, will spend their honeymoon at home, Mr. Wilcox, being the junior member of the firm of Carle & Wilcox, grocers, West Milwaukee street, and who is recognized as one of the live and active young business men of the city, possessing the confidence of the business community. The bride has long been a great favorite in the society of young people, and is a lady well qualified to make home one of sunshine. The best wishes of hundreds of friends are extended to the newly married pair. May the choicest
